

Research Services

<https://www.essayhave.com/research-paper-writing-service.html>

July seventh month a year. In ancient Rome, where the year began in March, July was the fifth month, and called him the Romans Quintilis, which means the fifth. The month was received by the month in honor of Julius Caesar, so renamed it in 45 to our era, whose birthday was for this month. And in Russia, July was several names at once. For example, our ancestors called him, like June, a cherry, which meant red or beautiful. This month, many fruits ripened.

Another Russian name of the month of Lipets, it was in July that bloomed such a tree popular in Russia as Lipa. These ancient Russian title could often be found in the sacrats and monthly month. In July, agricultural work was in full swing. No wonder, Croats called His sickle, and the ancient Germans of the month of Sen.

They also call the summer of summer, because this month is one of the warmest per year. But there are exceptions. For example, in the last days of July, the first frosts can be hit. Interested in the fact that on July 28, 1601, frost hit Moscow and even snow fell, which led to the death of the crop. And on July 7, 1952, in the same Moscow, even during the day, the thermometer was not raised above 10 degrees of heat.

On July 2, the Orthodox Church celebrates the day of St. Martyr Zosima, who was considered a patron saint of beekeeping in Russia. Our ancestors argued that it was on July 2, most often the hottest day of the year. On this holiday, many will have been associated with bees. If they quickly fly to the hives, it foreshadowed rain. And if they are shaved on the walls of the hives, it was necessary to wait for a strong heat.

July 8, the day of memory of Peter and Fevronia, who, according to legend, lived a long joint life. In old age, they took a monasticism and went to different monasteries, but died in one day and an hour. Peter and Fevronia were canonized by the Orthodox Church in 1547. And in modern Russia, since 2008, July 8, on the day of the memory of the saints, the holiday of family, love and loyalty is celebrated.

It is believed that children born in July, emotional. They are distinguished by a high sense of justice and an increased demand for those who surround them. Always try to put in front of them the maximum goals and stubbornly go to them. Many of those born in July occupy senior positions. At the same time, high emotion makes them easily wounded and offended. It is very upset if they are criticized or underestimated.

If in the northern hemisphere July Makushka summer, then in southern it is the coldest month, at that time winter, on the other side of the equator, in full swing. On July 21, 1983, the East was recorded at the Soviet Antarctic Station, the temperatures were recorded in minus 89.2 degrees

Celsius. From May 14 to July 30, there is a complete polar night on the southern pole, at this time there is absolutely no sunlight.

In July, the largest rainy and thunderstorms. On July 12, Peter and Paul's Day were celebrated in Russia, after which he began the time of Senokos. If the day was raining in Petrov, then, according to the signs, it will continue for a long time, therefore, it will be problematic to harvest the hay for the winter. After Peter and Paul's Day, Singing Nightingales stopped singing and no more cuckoo. They said that Peter and Paul are giving the day, and the heat is added.

July is a great time for football. This month, as a rule, the largest football tournaments are held. For example, on July 13, 1930, the first football championship of the world started in distant Uruguay. In the opening match, the France team won Mexico with a score of 4: 1. Especially to the tournament in Montevideo was built by Stadium Sentario, who accommodate 80,000 spectators. At that time it was the largest football isna of the planet.

The 1980 Summer Olympic Games also opened this month, a solemn ceremony took place on July 19 in Moscow. For fifteen days on sports arena, the athletes of 81 countries competed. The winners of the Olympic Games were athletes 36 countries, and broadcasts from Moscow, Leningrad, Kiev, Minsk and Tallinn went to 111 countries.

On July 26, 1951, during archaeological excavations in ancient Novgorod, the first bark grades was discovered. I found it participant in the expedition of Nina Aculov, for which he received from the head of the excavation of Artemy Vladimirovich Arzikhovsky Award in the amount of 100 rubles. In the same season, archaeologists managed to detect another 9 literacy. Now, on July 26, the Day of Bervian diploma is celebrated in Veliky Novgorod.

In July, on the second Sunday of the month, the Fishermen is celebrated. Moreover, it is celebrated by both professionals and fishermen. In 2021, the fisherman day fell on July 11th. Moreover, this holiday was approved in the Soviet Union, the corresponding decree of the Presidium of the USSR Supreme Soviet was adopted back in 1980. It is curious that on the second Sunday of July there is a day of action against fishing. The purpose of this event to terminate the uncontrolled fisheries, which leads to the death of many species of fish.